

FAQ

Flashing Attachment

There are multiple ways to address the top of the Canamould profile where there is no framing above. Where the design calls for the top of the profile to be addressed with an acrylic stucco finish, the recommendation from the EIFS suppliers is that there be a 6:12 slope to for water run off.

Where the designer wishes to have a less intense slope, we recommend flashing from above.

